

‘IDAU MATANA’ ‘a different eye’

by Tali Dunnage-Burke

Changes in visual culture have brought many freedoms in the way of personal, political and cultural expression. This exhibition explores the social interactions captured through my parent’s film camera, a rich visual narrative of pre and postcolonial perceptions of Papua New Guinea, her people and family affinities during 1960 – 1970’s.

Exhibition Opening: Friday 9th September at 6:00pm

This exhibition fulfils a component of the Bachelor of New Media Arts Honours Degree and will be officially opened by Adam Brown: Lecturer in Visual Arts, Cultural Theory and New Media at James Cook University, Townsville.

Exhibition Duration: 07 September - 14 September 2011

Front Image: Kara’s 1st Birthday Party, Tali Dunnage-Burke, photograph (2011)

eMerge Media Space
School of Creative Arts
James Cook University
www.jcu.edu.au/soca/gallery/

Gallery Hours:
Mon – Fri 8:30am – 4:30pm
Closed weekends and public holidays
Admission is free

eMerge
MEDIA | SPACE

School of Creative Arts
Townsville campus

 JAMES COOK UNIVERSITY
AUSTRALIA